

18 Ethics for Academic Leaders

1-day programme

Academic leaders face a distinctive set of ethical challenges - from supervision and assessment to professional relationships and institutional accountability. This programme provides a structured space to explore them.

What you'll learn

- Ethical frameworks relevant to academic leadership and governance
- How to navigate conflicts of interest in supervision and assessment
- Fairness and consistency in academic decision-making
- Building a culture of integrity in academic teams and departments

Who is it for

Heads of department, programme directors, academic managers, and senior academic staff with leadership responsibilities.

Duration

1-day programme

Outcomes

Academic leaders leave with a clearer ethical framework for their role and practical strategies for building integrity into their teams and processes.